

North Devon Conservatives

t (Press) 01271 344300

Date: 13 July 2009

PARK TERRACE – WHY NO ACTION?

LOCAL CAMPAIGNER, Philip Milton, who is also the Prospective Member of Parliament for the Conservatives for North Devon, has collected more County Council “Public Right of Way” Forms from local residents as it seems that DCC has been taking no action about enforcing the ancient public right of way at the end of Victoria Road and leading to Rock Park in Barnstaple.

The unsightly “gates” which apparently do not flout planning rules are attached to listed lamp posts at either end and Devon County Council street furniture in the middle.

The issue has been rumbling along for a long time and there have been angry protests as to why Liberal Democrat controlled Devon County Council seemed to take no action. Now, the protest can be taken forward by Conservatives in County Hall and Philip is working with the new team.

If readers would like to complete forms if they have personal recollection of this public right of way then they are welcome to contact Philip who would be glad to provide one. The photograph shows from right to left Philip Milton, Town Councillor Simon Harvey, Local Campaigner Jimmy Bartlett and District Councillors John Mathews and Michael Harrison holding the latest batch of petition forms.